water sports competition at the Mattapoisett Town Beach. In this picture, Mattapoisett Selectmen George S. White and David N. Haley are presenting awards. The grueling mile swim was won by Sue Craig with John Anderson posting the record time of 22.05. The new course made a very interesting race of the mile. The contestants were visible all of the way.

Also on the cover is a series of three photos of a rare flower for Mattapoisett. Mrs. Willis Munro has this Moonflower in her garden on Pearl Street. These three photos were taken in the space of 5 minutes. Each day at sundown this flower opens new blossoms which last the night and die at sunup. The blossoms snap open like umbrellas. Left to right, 7:34, 7:37 and 7:39 P.M.

WILLIAM H. WINSLOW HONORED BY TOWN

William H. Winslow, retired treasurer of Mattapoisett, was presented a framed citation naming him as outstanding municipal employee of the year at a ceremony at Mattapoisett Town Hall last Tuesday. Selectmen George White and David Haley are shown right with Mr. Winslow. Mr. White holds the citation as Mr. Haley present an apple pie, a favorite dessert.

Present were many of the town officials and Mr. Winslow's three brothers, Enoch, Raymond and Edwin all of whom have served the town for a number of years in official capacities.

TAXMAN, that GOLDEN SPARE GOOSE!

Taxation reaches a point of diminishing returns when it acts to penalize thrift, discourage investment and throttle the economy.

This point could be passed if certain tax proposals, now under consideration by the Legislature, are enacted into law.

These proposals would tax the operating incomes and average deposits of Co-operative Banks and Savings and Loan Associations ... REDUCING FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR DISTRIBUTION TO DEPOSITORS AS DIVIDENDS OR INTEREST.

A third proposal would exempt the first $100 in dividends AND TAKE $8 OUT OF EVERY $100 THEREAFTER.

Does it make sense to first reduce a saver's income and then take 8% of what's left over $100?

Does this encourage thrift?

Does it make sense to invite millions upon millions in deposits, (now available at minimum cost to home purchasers and builders) to pull up stakes and move to a less hostile climate-causing a shortage in mortgage money, boosting home mortgage costs and initiating a slump in home building and real estate activity?

Is this how you expand the economy?

We feel that every tax proposal should be studied-not just for its bill-paying potential BUT FOR ITS PROBABLE IMPACT ON THE ECONOMY.

Therefor, we urge you to write your Legislators and tell them you oppose this destructive attack on thrift and home ownership.

CAPEWAY ALL STARS LOSE

Capeway Little League All Stars suffered its first defeat in round three of the double elimination Greater New Bedford Little League Baseball Invitational tournament at Lawler Field Saturday night under lights.

Kevin Knight of Capeway pitched seven hitless and scoreless innings. Middleboro's Charles Quintal gave up one hit and no runs in the same distance. The scoring took place in the 8th inning when 2 unearned runs scored, and Jeff Gingras gave up a homerun,with one on,to Mike Blais of the victorious Middleboro Nine. The final score was Middleboro 4-Capeway 0.

The Capeway All Stars will face Acushnet this Friday night, August 27th, at Lawler Field.

EXPRESSES THANKS

The supper committee for last Saturday's supper at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church expresses its thanks to everyone who was instrumental in making it such a success. Also the committee would appreciate having outstanding ticket money turned in as soon as possible and ask cooperation along this line.

GRANGE HAS POT LUCK SUPPER

Members of Mattapoisett Subordinate Grange joined together for a delicious pot luck supper last Thursday in place of a regular meeting. After the supper, plans for the Fair were discussed with the chairman, Leonard Randall.

The men are to be at the hall Thursday night to put up tables and booths, the ladies are to come on Friday night to decorate and be ready for Saturday when the Fair will be open to the public at 1 o'clock.

All entries must be in place by 12 noon, then the main hall will be closed until 1 for the judging. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock by Mrs. Mildred LeBaron and her committee.

During the evening there will be a merchants' auction, in charge of Randy Randall, William Hinckley and Tom Matthews. These 3 young men are calling on the merchants of the town for their

EXHIBIT AT ART CENTER

In its next exhibit Marion Art Center will present selections from the work of Esther Geller. These will include oils, water colors and encaustics - done for the most part in the expresionistic manner.

Esther Geller was born in Boston. She studied painting with Karl Zerbe at the Boston Museum, and in Italy on a Cabot grant at the American Academy in Rome. She has exhibited at the Boris Mirski Gallery, Addison Gallery of American Art, Childrens Art Center in Boston, and in many other well known art institutions, and her work is represented in the permanent collections of the Boston Museum, Andover Museum and Zoning is not a mysterious science understood only by the chosen few. It is a practical attempt to preserve the present character of a community and an attempt to provide for its orderly growth and change. It is not to create a dull uniformity, for there will always be nonconforming uses and exceptions in every zoned district. Nor does it mean that the By-law can never be changed, for it can always be varied by variances and exceptions and changed, amended or abolished at any time if the Town so desires.

Although we, like the majority of New Englanders, are most jealous of the rights of the indivdual, we neverthless feel, that zoning is both inevitable and necessary for Mattapoisett. This is especially true since we already have a subdivision control law. They work together. Since we have come to this conclusion, our duty, as we see it, and our desire is to recommend a zoning by-law which will cause as little inconvenience and hardship as possible, and which will be acceptable to the majority of our fellow townsmen. And, we can do this better if we

Any Zoning by-law is governed by the enabling act (G.L. Chap. 40A), and the present layout of the Town. For the State Zoning Act provides "due regard shall be paid to the characteristics of the different parts of the city or town." It also provides that "For the purpose of the health, safety, convenience, morals or welfare of its inhabitants" a town may establish a zoning by-law to "regulate and restrict the height, number of stories and size of buildings and structures, the size and width of lots, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, yards, courts and other open spaces, the density of population and the location and use of buildings, structures and land for trade, industry, agriculture, residence or other purposes," with certain exceptions in regard to schools, churches, etc. It also lists many specific purposes without excluding other purposes not set forth.

The Zoning Act provides, generally, that a Zoning by-law or amendment shall not apply to existing buildings or structures nor to the existing use of any building or structure or of land to the extent to which it is used at the time of the adoption of the by-law or amendment, but it shall apply to any change or use thereof or alterations, etc. So, as a practical matter no one need worry about the affect of the Zoning law on his business unless he plans a change, and as the by-law must follow the characteristics of an given area it should not cause too much concern to one who has his residence zoned into a business district.

Any Zoning by-law adopted by Mattapoisett, will, necessarily, provide that lots must have larger areas and greater frontages than many lots now possess. This would not necessarily mean that such lots could not be used for residential purposes, as Section 5A of the State Zoning Act seems to provide in effect that any single lot or parcel of land surrounded by land of different ownership may be built upon for residential purposes if it has an area of at least 5000 square feet and a frontage of at least 50 feet, and is in a residential district, subject to certain provisions in regard to set back, etc. The provisions are different if the lot or lots are surrounded by land of the same ownership. We would certainly recommend that a provision at least as liberal as Section 5A be included in any Zoning by-law for Mattapoisett. However, there will undoubtedly be some lots which are too small or too narrow to be built upon. Even these lots may well have their uses for purposes other than building.

Your committee wishes only to make Mattapoisett a more desirable place in which to live. How do you think that this can best be done? Please, give us your suggestions.

125 Years Ago -- 1840

The year 1840 marked a temporary low in ship-building in Mattapoisett with only three vessels sliding down the ways, (as compared with nine the next year), but fate decreed that one of these three should be the most famous vessel built in Mattapoisett. Not the most widely-known, for probably more people have heard of the Wanderer --but it was on board the Ship Acushnet, sailing from Fairhaven January 3, 1841, that an author named Herman Melville made his whaling voyage that resulted in the American classic Moby Dick.

The Acushnet, 359 tons, had been built the previous summer and fall by Gideon Barstow & Son in their yard at the foot of Pearl Street for the whaling firm of Bradford & Fuller of Fairhaven. The builders took part of their payment in shares in the vessel, a common practice of the day. Fortunately, anyone wishing to know what the Acushnet looked like may easily find out by driving to the Mystic Seaport and going over the Charles W. Morgan. The two vessels were built the same year; they have approximately the same measurements; and to all intents and purposes were identical inside and outside, from topmast to keel, and from stem to stern.

Although Melville jumped ship in the South Seas--and as a result wrote several other books --the Acushnet returned to Fairhaven after the usual four year cruise with a moderately good cargo. She sailed for the Pacific again in July of 1845 with Captain William B. Rogers of Mattapoisett as Master. (Captain Rogers lived in the house on Depot Street that later was the Sisson house.) On this voyage the Acushnet had a boat stove by a whale, killing the third mate and four other men. Her third voyage was her last, being wrecked in 1851 on St. Lawrence Island off the Alaskan Coast.

Of the other two vessels built in the village yards 125 years ago, one was the whaleship Lydia, 351 tons, launched from the Meigs yard (the site of the present Todd house), which sailed the seas for years sailing from Nantucket then Fairhaven, then New London. The third vessel was the merchant Brig Massachusetts, 164 tons, built in the Holmes yard (Shipyard Park) and owned by 16 Mattapoisett shareholders.

The Massachusetts was put into the coastwise trade, her first voyage taking her to Para, Brazil. She made voyages to such ports as Berbirce, Georgetown, English Guiana, Jamaica, New Orleans, Mobile, etc. We read such maritime items in the New Bedford newspapers as these in 1843:

"Sld. fr. Mattapoisett, 6th, brig Massachusetts, Brownell, Baltimore."

"Arr. at Baltimore, 12th, brig Massachusetts, Brownell."

The Massachusetts was lost on Gingerbread Grounds, Bahamas. For her first several years, her master and part owner was Captain Stafford

Brownell who had captained many Mattapoisett coastwise vessels and later was a shipmaster in the New York-Liverpool run. He built and lived in the large house at the corner of Reservation Road and Route 6, later known as the Joseph Snow house. Captain Brownell got his first name from his mother's father, Stafford Hammond, who in 1776 built the old farmhouse on the present John Field property on Mattapoisett Neck.

MARINE CORPS ENLISTMENT

The Marine Corps Recruiting Office in New Bedford announced that with the impending use of the draft by the other branches of the armed force and to ensure their being a strictly voluntary organization for enlistments in the Marine Corps, the following new policies and regulations have been placed into effect: in order to compete favorably with the draft the Marine Corps has been authorized to enlist a limited number of applicants for 2 years of active duty to be followed by 4 years in the reserve, 3 of which would be in the ready reserve and 1 year in the standby reserve. During these last four years it would not be necessary to attend any meetings. In addition any prior marines discharged within the last 12 months with the rank of gunnery sergeant or below, interested in coming back in can now be enlisted with the same rank held at discharge. Also, any discharged marines eligible, be reenlisted with the rank of Private First Class or Lance Corporal, may now be reenlisted with one dependent. Previously, no dependents were authorized. Another recent change has been in the enlistment requirements and all prior applicants that have been rejected for any reason other then police records are requested to contact their local marine recruiter if they are still interested in joining. For further information on any of the programs contact Gunnery Sgt. Frank E. Cooper or Sgt. Joseph R. Robinson at the Custom House Building in New Bedford or the Recruiting Station at 349 Main Street, Hyannis, Mass.

SUMMER RESIDENT MAKES H2O STRIKE

It's been a long, dry summer and thoughts just turn naturally to water - cool, clear water. George E. Stone of Cedarcrest Avenue, Crescent Beach, Mattapoisett decided to take some action in the old fashioned way. So, with the aid of son, Lars, and good friend, Ray Palmquist, he drilled no less than 3 times for a well. On the third attempt (naturally) they drove the point to 17 feet and hit a gusher. Water now flows from the old fashioned pump which was purchased from an antique shop.

The owner of the well reportedly couldn't have been more pleased if he had struck oil.

HOME RULE!

It is quite likely that the Selectmen are on the receiving end of more complaints than bouquets so it's a pleasure to compliment them on their comments at the water conference. At least our town is standing on its own feet, one among the multitude. Mattapoisett still controls Mattapoisett. Thanks to some sturdy individualists.
